WAINWRIGHT DISTRICT GARDEN SAYS PRESIDENT OF LAND COMPANY OF GREAT WESTERN COUNTRY

President Wood of Wood-Wainwright Estate is Undoubtedly One of the Most Optimistic and Enthusiastic Men Ever Visiting Here --- Has Warm Spot in His Heart for People of This City --- As President of Company He is More than Satisfied with Purchases.

Absolutely the most sanguine and at the same time most optimistic man who has visited this town in its brief history is here this week in the person of Mr. John Wood, president of the Wood-Wainwright Estate, controlling twelve hundred acres of choice farm lands in the immediate vicinity of Wainwright.

He arrived here about a week ago, and that week has been an especially interesting and impressive one for both himself and the newly-formed friends with whom he has been in contact. It would be impossible to express the remarkably high tension of Mr. Wood's enthusiasm and spirit. His stay has been brief, but of sufficient duration to convince him that even his highest hopes have been more than fulfilled.

"I came to Canada," said Mr. Wood, "to verify my impression and conception of the country, and both have been gloriously fulfilled. Every word, spoken by Mr. Aykroyd in London and throughout England generally has been substantiated. Wainwright is to my mind the garden of western Canada."

With this Mr. Wood began speaking of Wainwright in particular and of the proposition which had been undertaken by his company. The directors were of the opinion that they were tackling a very rough proposition, and that their manager, Mr. Aykroyd, had attempted something that he could not possibly carry out. He was more convinced than ever that Mr. Aykroyd had not gone far enough when boasting the Wainwright district in England.

"As president of the company," said Mr. Wood, "I am more than satisfied. I came to Canada in the interest of the directors to verify what they thought of the country. We bought on the recommendation of Mr. Aykroyd and my confidence in him has been carried to the full."

Mr. Wood has a warm spot in his heart for Wainwright's businessmen and on his arrival here found they were of the class that warm the heart of an Englishman. He would take off his hat to them. Their spirit must surely be part and parcel of that which went to build up this western country. Special assistance had been offered by many local businessmen, among whom were S. E. James, manager of the Merchants Bank and Mr. J. H. Dawson.

Mr. Wood will be banqueted tonight by the board of trade and the affair will take place in the Wainwright Hotel. The members of the council and board of trade will be in attendance and it is expected that Mr. Wood will carry away an even better impression than he has already formed.

IS THERE ANY TRUTH IN RUMOUR THAT 10,000 ACRES IN PARK ARE BEING THROWN OPEN FOR ENTRY

Nothing Official from Ottawa as Yet --- Portion of East Side Spoken of

SOME THINK IT IS MORE THAN MERE RUMOUR

Land Rush Would Surely Be Experienced in the Event of Land Being Thrown Open

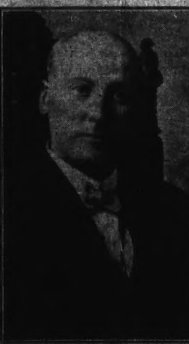

Again it is said that the throwing open of several thousand acres of the present buffalo park here is contemplated at Ottawa, yet nothing official has come to hand that would verify such reports. Should the report prove correct, however, it is presumably certain that the addition of several thousand acres of mixed farming country to Wainwright's district would not be shown any distinct opposition, or at least from anyone in this vicinity.

It is said that if any land in the park is thrown open, a certain portion of the north-east corner will be selected. Land in that location is pronounced on as being very good and would be suitable for something more than mixed farming. Whether or not it is intended to throw open many acres at the north-east corner is questionable, although it would appear more reasonable to suppose that this would be done at the south-east extremity.

Those who have witnessed a land rush, would, in the event of such a course being taken, see real live times in this vicinity, for no doubt the different quarter sections would be readily sought by home seekers from all over the country. And the majority would assume that the government had selected the best of virgin soil as the home of the only large herd of buffalo in the world.

It is not believed that any very great credence can be given the report from the fact that absolutely nothing has been officially announced from the department of Ottawa.

Director of the Cardston Choral Society, will conduct the chorus of 150 voices during the week of the International Dry Farming Congress, Lethbridge, October 21-23.

HAS MADE ANNOUNCEMENT THAT LIBEL SUIT WILL BE INSTITUTED AGAINST STAR EDITOR

Mrs. Dr. Keane Sees Libellous Matter in STAR'S News Items and will Take Legal Action

The following interesting and very pointed information appeared in the latest issue of the Chauvin Advance, the publication printed and edited in Chauvin by Mrs. Dr. Keane.

"A libel suit will be instituted against the scurrilous editor, of the Wainwright Star for his repeated attacks upon Mrs. Dr. Keane, editor of the Chauvin Advance."

Readers of these columns will see this information with no small interest, particularly in view of reports to this effect for some time past, and reports of a like nature against the Chauvin board of trade and the Toronto Type Foundry.

It is to be regretted that Mrs. Keane has viewed news items in this light, and has apparently drawn on her imagination and presumed that there was any enmity or hostility between the Wainwright Star and the Chauvin Advance. One who has had as many difficulties as Mrs. Keane is deserving of pity and sympathy. Since the Advance was first started there has been no animosity of any kind so far as this publication is concerned and it is unfortunate that she has seen fit to view the matter in an entirely different light.

Interesting amateur vaudeville shows are being witnessed these nights in the local rink. In the gift of the temporary opera hall, the band boys are faithfully practicing. On the stage, a dance is in progress, and at various parts of the rink, miniature boxing and wrestling exhibitions, and in the ring Joe Hyman is being given a work-out.

LORD CONGLETON, BRITISH PEER, MUCH PLEASED WITH SCENES AT NATIONAL BUFFALO PARK HERE

MISCONSTRUES MEANING OF ARTICLE IN WHICH NO INSINUATION WAS INTENDED

Chief of Police Misinterprets Article Re-Dishonest Western Police Chiefs

The STAR is sorry in the slightest these days, and objection has been taken to a certain article in last week's issue, concerning the chief of police at Melville, and the report that Wainwright was seeking a new police chief.

Chief of Police Walton, who will be relieved of his position on September 1st, is of the opinion that he was not given a square deal, in that his name was mentioned in connection with dishonest men at the head of western police departments.

The editorial was written simply as a warning to the new chief, whoever he might be, so that he might profit by the experience of other western towns. No reference or even inference to any dishonesty on Walton's part was made.

TIME HAS EXPIRED; NO PLACE OF AMUSEMENT

Rink Can No Longer be Used and How Will Entertainment Now be Afforded

Citizens have for sometime past, and even since the Auditorium was razed to the ground, enjoyed little or no amusement in the way of attractions, which go to entertain and please one during leisure hours. As it is at present, the entertainment, which was formerly furnished by show troupes and theatrical companies, is greatly missed.

It is indeed a pity that theatrical companies cannot be booked for engagements here. The reason for it, however, possibly lies in the fact that no house of entertainment has been available, and in this connection it is to be regretted that the period, set by the insurance underwriters for the holding of concerts in the rink, has expired.

In the early days of the town, the citizens were given a great deal more entertainment in every way than they get at present. It was not unusual to see several concerts, under the auspices of local talent, in a single week. And in this connection, the many amusing performances under the direction of Mr. H. C. King will not easily be forgotten.

Nothing weakens the force of an argument so much as many words. Let your promises be truths and your conclusions cannot be false.

Irish Nobleman Touring Canada Visits Park which He Thinks is of National Importance

IS VERY YOUNG MAN
His Family History is of Great Interest and Dates Back to Time of Cromwell

It often happens that Wainwright is visited by notable and distinguished personages, but for the first time since the inception of the town an English peer was sufficiently interested in the attraction of this vicinity to make provision for a brief sight-seeing trip last week. Following advice from Mr. R. C. W. Lett, Colonization Agent for the G. T. P., who is well known here from the fact that he has done a large amount of good work in the settlement of this district, Lord Congleton, a peer in the British House of Lords, showed his desire to see the largest herd of buffalo in the world, and stopped off here for the week-end.

Lord Congleton, who has recently become of age, resides in Marlborough, Ireland, where he owns large tracts of land, inherited from his forefathers. Barely more than twenty-one years of age, he is spending a brief holiday in Canada, after having successfully graduated from Oxford last year. From here he passed on to the mountains where he is this week enjoying a little hunting and fishing. He is a young man full of life and interest and is greatly pleased with what he has already seen of Canada. This is his first trip to this country, which was taken on the recommendation of Lord Strathcona, who is a close friend of the family.

The history of the family is of a most interesting character, and dates back for several centuries. During the time of Oliver Cromwell, his people fought against Charles I, and on the accession of Charles II to the throne at time of Restoration, the entire family was expelled and sought Ireland as their home. Since then many brilliant men of that family have taken a stand against the English government, chief of whom was Charles Stewart Parnell, who took such a leading part for the Irish during the close of the 19th Century. Lord Congleton is a direct descendant of Charles Parnell and in fact is his cousin once removed.

While here, Lord Congleton formed few acquaintances, although to those who did meet him, he proved himself a most interesting young man. He was much impressed with what he saw at the Buffalo Park and considered it well worth while visiting. He was taken over the park by Superintendent McTaggart.

Advertising does more than boost business, it advances it with a steady growth and makes two blades of grass where there was only one.

FLOUR MILL WILL LIKELY BE IN OPERATION AND READY FOR FARMERS BY OCTOBER 1

C. H. Mohr Now in Minneapolis is Superintending Shipment of Machinery

Mr. Charles H. Mohr, who is one of the partners in the firm of C. E. Bird & Co., of Minneapolis, and who has been here for sometime past erecting the new flour mill, left for the Twin City last week to superintend shipment of the machinery necessary for the mill.

Previous to his departure, Mr. Mohr stated that the mill would undoubtedly be in operation in the course of the next two months and in all probability by October 1st. The machinery will arrive shortly and after its installation in the new building, which is now complete the wheels will be started for the season.

Good progress has been made by Mr. Mohr, since his arrival here several months ago and with the assistance of his two sons the entire building has been put in place.

CROPS IN FINE SHAPE

Coming Week will Mean Much for Prosperity of This Section of Province

The crops are at the 'parting of the ways' as it were, and the next week will mean much for the prosperity of this part of Alberta. A slight frost would do little damage, while several degrees would probably clip off two or three grades from the classification of the different grains, which are as yet uncut.

No frost, however, has been reported from any part of the district and the grain is rapidly reaching that stage where it is fit to cut. Many farmers started cutting this week, although cutting will not be general until next week sometime.

Constable Webster to be on Guard of Honor

Constable R. E. R. Webster, who has been stationed here for the past year and a half, and who is recognized as one of the best men in the North-West Mounted Police Force, has been selected as one of the bodyguards to the Duke of Connaught, who will open the much-talked-of "Stampede" in Calgary, commencing September 2nd.

"I was cured of diarrhoea by one dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," writes M. E. Gehart, Okla., Pa. There is nothing better. For sale by all dealers.

FARM IMPLEMENTS

Necessity of Making of Canadian Machinery Attending to Western Trade

Implement makers everywhere and none under cover. This strikes a person at almost every station in the vast agricultural area of the West. Where does all this machinery come from? When the Made-in-Canada train was at Regina, Mr. T. H. Race, the official lecturer, accompanied by the Secretary of the Board of Trade, visited the various implement yards and made an estimate of the value of machinery awaiting distribution. Here is what they found:

American implements $8,000,000.00

Canadian implements 10,000.00

A booklet issued by the Regina Board of Trade says: "Regina is the largest point of distribution of agricultural implements in the world." In view of this statement the above figures are even more significant, in that they probably represent the relative expenditures on American and Canadian machinery throughout the West. At every stop of the Made-in-Canada train the percentage of American implements was very large. Typical of numerous stations along the line may be mentioned the sign of an American firm prominently displayed over a yard of farm machines at a new settlement west of Maple Creek. The town was born only this year, but its principal trade, so far, is the distribution of farm machinery. The enormous revenue in the West from agricultural machinery is illustrated by the Secretary of the Regina Board of Trade who stated that last year $25,000,000 worth of implements was delivered from that point, the freight and customs paid being $13,000,000.

Hint to Canadians. The agents for United States manufacturing concerns are selling farm machinery in our land, lots in many towns, which indicates that the Canadian manufacture of implements is not taking the proper advantage of his opportunity in this connection. The Telegram adds: "The Canadian manufacturer is blind to the necessities of Western Canada and the signs of the times. If he does not realize that it is his duty to get into the West with branch factories and offices and end the stupendous folly of undertaking to maintain long distance control of the Western Canadian market. The time has passed when a manufacturer having his factories at London, Hamilton, Toronto or Ottawa can hope to dominate a market through the medium of agencies as against the aggressive methods of the American manufacturers. He must get into the West, establish branch factories and meet the American competition on the ground."

PRODUCTION AND PRICES

For a time wheat growing will continue to be the chief occupation of Western farmers. We cannot coerce the Western people into mixed farming any more than we can induce any element in the East to abandon that which holds promise of the greatest return for the least labor. In the meantime we will continue to send a larger volume of duty and wheat products to the West, enhancing prices at home in order to find the necessary supply for Western consumers. What we can do, however, is to assist by every appropriate means and by expert advice in the stimulation of scientific agriculture both in the newer and the older Provinces. The truth is that consumption is running far ahead of production, and that only by increased production will easier conditions of living be restored. If the West wants money for agricultural colleges, for co-operative enterprises, for field instruction, for provision of granaries, for any other object, which in the judgment of its legislature and its people will stimulate local enterprises, attract new industries and improve general conditions, it should be voiced freely, not as a concession to sectional feeling, but as an imperative national duty. The Customs revenue alone increases at the rate of $2,500,000 per month, and at this juncture in our national history we can do nothing of such infinite significance for today and for tomorrow as to prove by wise administrative vigilance and robust governmental action that Western problems are the peculiar concern of Federal Ministers and of the whole population of the older Provinces.—The Toronto News.

LOCAL INDUSTRIES

Few Western Municipalities Are Not Willing to Give Financial Aid

Cities, towns and even incorporated villages throughout the West are giving much thought to the establishment of local industries. Winnipeg already has fifteen thousand factory employees, whose annual wages amount to nine million dollars. There are few municipalities in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, but are willing to aid financially, the establishment of some local industry. Brandon owns 100 acres, which will eventually be distributed as free sites for factories. Bourke is completing a power plant, from which it is hoped to supply cheap power to factories. Rosebush proposes to pipe water for ten miles, partly at least, for the encouragement of industries. The list might be extended indefinitely. Municipalities know that industrial development would very materially promote inland farming, by establishing a home market for farm produce, such as milk, cream, eggs and meats.

One of the most common ailments that hard working people are afflicted with is lumbago. Apply Chamberlain's Liniment twice a day, and massage the parts thoroughly at each application, and you will get quick relief. For sale by all dealers.

NEWSY ITEMS OF DOINGS ALONG LINE OF G. T. P.

Eighteen prospective brides left the Union Station, Toronto recently for Western Canada, travelling over the Grand Trunk. Mr. A. E. Duff, District Passenger Agent, states that this is only the first of a large number of Ontario girls who will go west for a similar purpose. Already he had received letters from the various G. T. P. agents throughout the province stating that their were many girls in the country desirous of taking a chance in the matrimonial market, and that he expected to have fully 50 in the next party.

Advices received by the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway regarding the supply of harvest help that will be needed in Western Canada show that in the large district of Saskatchewan, reached through the city of Saskatoon, no fewer than 5000 men will be needed to handle the season's crop. Saskatoon is the distributing centre for a large area and the system with which harvest help is handled through that city is well known as a complete organization. A special department at the office of the Board of Trade is set aside for the sole purpose of distributing harvest hands.

Arrangements have been concluded with the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway by the Hon. Duncan Marshall, Minister of Agriculture for Alberta, for a special live stock train to be run over the company's lines throughout the Province. This train will be a travelling stock school, run upon the most practical lines and dairying and hog raising will be the special subjects dealt with by lectures of the provincial department of agriculture.

G. T. P. ENTERPRISE

Readers of these columns have no doubt perceived that the little interest along the line of the G. T. P. Contrary to the opinion of many, these reports are sent into this office from the several departments of the railway system, and are subsequently given space and prominence.

No better proof than this is at hand to convince one that the railway company is composed of a wide-awake and progressive aggregation of competent officials. Not only do these reports deal with items of interest along the G. T. P., but all western news of railway importance is chronicled.

General Passenger Agent Hinton and District Passenger Agent Quinlan are responsible for this service which has found favor with all western publications. It represents the accumulated news from headquarters and of which the public are on few occasions informed, except it be by interview or private information.

In this way the railway not only gains prominence of the very best kind, but gives a service that is appreciated by those who are interested in the strides being made from time to time.

The Edmonton exhibition has closed and a distinct success has been accomplished by the managers. The fair was all that was predicted for it and attendants were satisfied to the full. This is a great more than can be said of certain fairs which have been held in Western Canada this year. Calgary's stampede is the next on the lists.

With the completion of cement walks around block 7, the residents will feel that their hopes have eventually been realized. The town council, however, should not feel satisfied with their good work, until permanent sidewalks are constructed on every street in town, which of course cannot be done until their hopes of a larger town are realized.

Grain is now out of danger and cutting is in progress. The first satisfaction has been expressed and the handling of the grain remains for the next few months. With the opening of the elevator and the wheels of the flour mill in operation, this should be made comparatively easy.

New points are being advanced each day why farmers should take an especial interest in Wainwright's first fair. In the first place it is an affair which is intended to help the farmers more than any others. On them depends the success or otherwise failure of the exhibition.

The board of health announced last week that an immediate cleanup would be made compulsory, yet to date few or no steps have been taken to even start this work. It was thought at this time last week that the efforts of the board would have some results. Are the citizens still to continue in their belief that the health board is not as alive as it might be?

A man may guy, and a man may lie, and a man may puff and blow; but he can't get trade by sitting in the shade, waiting for business to grow.—Commercial.

If Wainwright's first fair is to be the success that is anticipated, no time should be wasted by district farmers in the preparations of the several exhibits they decide to make. It can be taken for granted, even if the prize lists are not yet in circulation, that the prizes are well worth while.

From an educative standpoint, Wainwright's first fair will do worlds of good. Farmers and citizens will have the opportunity of displaying their interest in the welfare of one another. It is to be hoped that a more than usual response will be given to the numerous and munificent offers hung out for competition.

As yet the local members of the agricultural society have done the greater part of the preparatory work for the fair and it now rests with the farmers to complete this good work with their assistance and cooperation. This fair must prove a howling success if the proper course is taken by all concerned.

A HOSPITAL?

Tofield will submit a by-law to the people for the establishment of several important improvements, included in which is one providing for the establishment of a municipal hospital at a cost of $4,000. Melville's town council is seriously considering the same question and a live interest is being taken in the issue by the several councillors. It is also to be noted that an interest in the same question has started here, as a result of the closing of the private hospital, formerly conducted by Dr. Watson.

Data as to the various methods of financing such an institution should be procured and if necessary new schemes advanced by the councillors themselves. Advice and assistance from the farming community should be sought, for it has been proven that the greater part of sick patients taken to the private hospital were from the country districts.

The need of such an institution is readily seen and if the question is to be taken up, it should be started at the earliest possible moment. If a private hospital is not procurable in time of sickness then some other home for the sick should be provided. A modern town, where the health of the community is properly safeguarded, has an institution of some kind where the sick are cared for.

CEMENT CROSSINGS

The reason for no crossings having been placed at the different street corners must lie in the belief on the part of the town council that they will cost money and perhaps the financial part of the undertaking is considered as the important feature. Be that as it may, it is again remarked that permanent crossings should be placed at the intersections of the important streets. Even if they cost fifty or sixty dollars each, they will be placed for all time to come, providing the work is done properly by a competent workman.

This improvement is really necessary from many viewpoints and before the cement work which is now in progress in the town is dispensed with provision should be made in council for permanent crossings on the business streets. Even the plank sidewalks are connected with proper crossings.

The more urgent a man is to have you credit him in some wild story in which he was a heroic participant, the more apt you are to doubt his statement.

Sir Wilfred Laurier, Canada's late premier, will some west this fall and will hold meetings at various points along his itinerary. He will go as far west as Vancouver.

No less than eight tri-loads of laborers from Eastern Canada have arrived in the west already. Even at that, there is a possibility of a shortage of men this fall.

A vast amount of ill health is due to impaired digestion. When the stomach fails to perform its function properly the whole system becomes deranged. A few doses of Chamberlain's Tablets is all you need. They will strengthen your digestion, invigorate your liver, and regulate your bowels, entirely doing away with that miserable feeling due to faulty digestion. Try it. Many others have been permanently cured—why not you? For sale by all dealers.

He who fails to advertise his goods is lacking in a business method which is necessary before success can be attained.

Negotiations have been entered into by the Mayor at Wainwright, Mr. W. P.
